SHANE PELTZMAN HEADS BACK TO THE STUDIO

PHILADELPHIA, PA – Teen musician Shane Peltzman is excited to be back in the studio and working with Music Industry Producer/Writer/Remixer Steve Migliore a.k.a. Mr. Mig., President of MigTight Productions, Inc., Music Industry.

Shane is recording new material as well as reworking some old favorites. "We're just beginning the process and so far, so great," said Shane. "Interacting with Mig in the studio has been great - his talents are inspirational and the songs never sounded so good."

Mr. Mig has the distinguished honor of being the first remixer to cross a country artist over to the world of mainstream pop. LeAnn Rimes' "How Do I Live" reached #1 on the Billboard chart and stayed in the Top 10 for an astonishing 32 weeks. Additional credits include: Faith Hill (Warner), Vitamin C (Elektra), Brian McKnight (Mercury), La India (Sony Discos), Joey Lawrence (Curb), Hanson (Mercury), Rockell (Robbins), and Chaka Khan.

Shane's demo disc recorded last summer received critical acclaim. Since then Shane has been performing at various venues such as Grape Street Pub, World Café Live, and The Point. "Performing live is really where my songs take shape," remarked Shane. "It allows me to feel the song and take it to the next level."
